Could you be a Judge or Tribunal Chair?

Towards a more diverse judiciary

Information evening for solicitors and barristers
Wednesday 5 November 2003 from 6.00 – 8.00pm
Armada House, Telephone Avenue, Bristol

Serving judges, tribunal chairs and members of the Department of Constitutional Affairs will present an open evening on part time and full time judicial careers.

The Lord Chancellor is committed to achieving a diverse judiciary and, through an open appointments system, to encouraging candidates of ability from all backgrounds to seek appointment.

This event will be of interest to lawyers who would like to consider a judicial appointment at some time in their careers. The DCA hopes that the evening will assist in addressing the concerns of minority and female practitioners and those with disabilities. It will provide practical advice and guidance about applying for judicial appointment. Those attending will hear from serving judges and tribunal chairs about the challenges and rewards of holding judicial office. After the final presentations, there will be time to mingle with serving members of the judiciary and DCA staff over a glass of wine.
